Here are the steps to set automatic alerts on any contract. Step 1. Create A new Automated Action. For the Related Document Model choose.. Step 2. Go to Server Actions and create new Action. Call it Contract Expiration Warning. Step 3. Now go back to the Automated Action you created and go to the Action tab next to the conditions tab. Click Add and add the server action you created .

Community Builder offers you various ways how to build, strengthen an engage your community. It consists of a help forum, blogging platform mailing list subscriptions - all these awesome features are avaible in thi single app.

No need to install any aditional programs or to make a complicated cha in your software - everything you need is integrated in Odoo's user-frie simple and professional app.

Help Forum

Create your own Help Forum that can be integrated directly on your website. This Q&A platform allows your customers and the whole community to ask questions about any area of they interest. They can ask for tips on how to use your services or for examples from other users. You, as well as anyone else from the community, can reply and/or start a further discussion on specific topics.
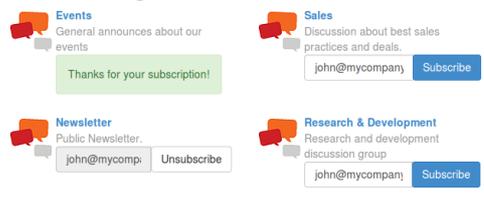

Contributors can also get karma: depending on the number of answers, comments or any other activity, the karma can increase and give them more access in the moderation of the forum.

Having a structured Q&A help forum on your website is an easy way how to provide fast, professional and accurate information to your visitors.
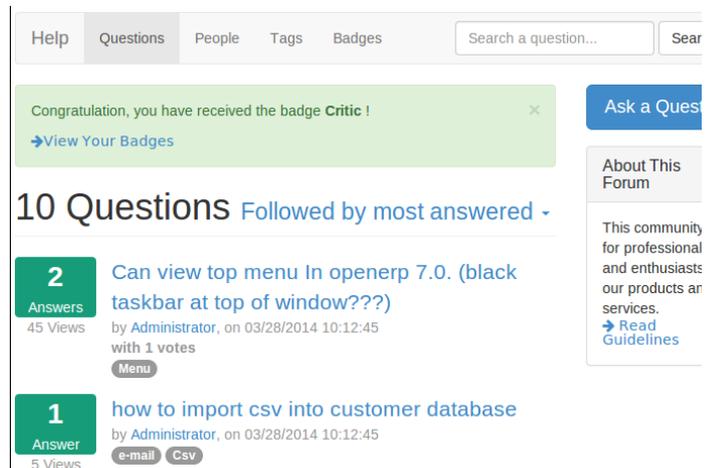

Create Great Company Newsletter

Odoo's "mailing lists" feature also allows you to create public mailing lists for your newsletters or for any kind of community mailings.

It's a great way how to announce a big change in the company, release of a new product or other important news to your wide audience and followers.

Easily create newsletter mailing list by adding a template form on the website, where your visitors can subscribe by simply adding their email address which will be automatically added to your database.

You can also allow company mailing lists subscription - your community members can subscribe to the mailing list and then get a full access to the group. They can send and receive emails, read archives, start their own discussions, etc...

Start Blogging!

Create blogging platforms directly on your website and publish blog posts, articles, news and updates about your company and/or your products and services.

Our well-designed 'Building Blocks' with simple drag&drop system can be used to create beautiful blog posts that perfectly integrate images, videos, call-to-actions, quotes, banners, etc. Use our templates or your own ideas to create something new!

With our unique 'edit inline' approach, you don't need to be a designer to create awesome, good-looking content for your sites. Each blog post will look like it's designed by a professional designer.
